SUMMARY OF ST. LOUIS MARKETS.

Trading was extremely light compared with the earlier days in the week, and the weather hand advices from Chicago indicated that longs on that exchange were anxious to get out. Cables were lower and receipts unexpectedly good for a Saturday. In the local market there was little epeculation in the first hour, but later selling orders came out freely, mostly for accounts of small traders. There was no apparent professional suport, certainly no concerted movement to prevent prices from slumping. The weather map showed clear and warmer over nearly the entire winter-wheat belt. The few crop reports received from Kansas and Nebraska were distinctly bearlsh.

There was no interest in corn. The only sale of July was at Friday's figure, but later bids were higher.

WEATHER-MAP ARGUMENTS SEND WHEAT PRICE LOWER.

CORN AND OATS MAKE GOOD GAINS ON THE DAY.

Provisions Display Much Strength and Receive Attention From Speculators.

Chicago, June 21 .- Weather-map argument was the pivot on which grain speculation swung to-day. But it was fair weather and promise of more of it, rather than the soulcing rains, that influenced wheat most of the week. In consequence, wheat slipped down, Corn and oats had good arguments of their own to sustain prices, therefore, while July wheat closed % 10% closer, July corn gained % c and July cars stood % c higher. Provisions gained much attention because of their strength, and closed with net gains of 2% to 15% 10c.

Corn.

Corn ended its weak's work in a lagging manner. After the excitement of the first of the week to-day's quiet seemed abnormal. The tone, however, made up somewhat for the narrowness of trade. In spite of the bearish weather conditions and the wheat slump, corn held firmly. There was considerable selling at times in July, but everything was well taken. Deferred options were also in good gemand and were well taken when offered. Gossip on the floor was to the effect that farmers were inclined to run thear corn through hogs, befloor was to the effect that farmers were inclined to run their corn through longs, because of the temptingly high price of provisions, rather than to saip in the stuff. July still seemed congusted. This option today sold between 55c and 55-jc, and closed firm 5,c up at 67-jc. Receipts have improved a little of late, but contract stuff is very small. Today 771 cars arrived, of which only 14 were contract.

Outs ruled protty sleady. There were early dips in the wheat break and the better weather, but the briskness of the cash demand and the hermeess of corn influenced a change of sentiment and a slight advance. Preflictaking during the week induced to some extent by an improvement in shipments, held prices down. To-day the crowd was bulled, though quiet, and July sold as low as 39-jc, closed firm 1/2 up at 40-jc. Receipts were 200 cars.

Provisions, while only fairly active, attracted considerable attention from the fact that top prices for the year again prevailed. A stronger hog market and with packers buying all products offered, very good advances were registered. ADVANCE IN STEEL A SUS-TAINING INFLUENCE.

Whole List Turns Heavy on Ap pearance of an Unfavorable

Bank Statement. New York, June 21 .- To-day's dull and professional stock market calls for little comment. An advance of over a point in United States Steel was a sustaining force in the opening dealings. The demonstrative buying by the brokers usually employed by the syndicate helped this movement. The Southwestern railroads made some show of strength, 3t. Louis Southwestern preferred rising 11-2. The effect of these movements never extended far. The whole list turned heavy upon the appearance of the bank statement, and the closing was easy, with prices slightly below hast night's for the most part. The bank statements showed most part. The bank statements showed a gain of cash of less than a million, while the estimates had been for nearly three millions. The deposit liabilities were increased by a loan expansion of nearly eight millions. The net result was an enconchment upon the surplus reserves of $1.144,100. On the eve of preparations for the July settlements the showing was considered disquileting, especially in view of the continued firmness of foreign exchange.

Campaign for Higher Prices. Campaign for Higher Prices.

Campaign for Higher Prices.

The organized campaign to advance prices of stocks, which has been in evidence for stocks, which has been in evidence for some time past, gathered volume and force this week, and carried prices up with a general sweep on Wednesday, with the largest dealings for one day since the early part of May. On Thursday there was a movement to take profits by the buils, and an aggressive attack by the bears, which caused a sharp raction and a pause. The unexpected increase in the stock of the lilinois Central and the granting of rights to stockholders to subscribe at par gave the whole market its fill up on Wednesday, and helped the buils to take their profits with the first appearance of general outside interest in the market that has been aroused. The manner in which unfavorable news was ignored on the rise is shown by the prominent place taken by the Reading stocks in the advance, in spite of the miners' strike and the continued paralysis of the anthracitie trade. Professions of confidence in the success of crops and suggestions of probable increases of divisiends on railroad stocks were the ostensible motives of the buying of the grangers, which were prominent in the upward movement.

Gould Stocks Conspicuously Strong.

Gould Stocks Conspicuously Strong.

The Gould stocks as a group, led by Missouri Pacific, were also conspicuously strong because of an appreciation of the improved strategic position of these properties in the railroad world by reason of recent acquisitions and extensions, and the belief that financial plain for consolidation of operation is being worked out. There were rumors of a contest for control of Reading, on the part of the Pennsylvania, and its subsidiery company, Baltimore and Ohio. The making perpetual of an injunction against the conversion of $200,000,000 of United States Steel preferred stock into bonds has had a depressing effect upon the Gould Stocks Conspicuously Strong. United States Steel preferred stock into bonds has had a depressing effect upon the securities of that corporation, and upon the general financial sentiment. With the Northern Securities project already contested in the courts, the shadow of judicial disapproval is thus thrown over the two most important financial projects of the recent era of expansion.
